

ANCIENT THEATER OF EPIDAUROS

Providing one of the best sights anywhere in Greece, the Ancient Theatre of Epidauros is a wonder to behold.

Built on a slope, inside a pine forest, to accommodate 15,000 people, this theater is just one of many things to discover at an ancient Greek city which dates back well over 2,000 years. Still extremely well preserved, is absolutely vast and elegant at the same time; set over three levels it offers a startling insight into Ancient Greek life. In the summer, during the Epidauros Festival, one can appreciate the incredible acoustics.

Don't miss the sanctuary of Asclepius, a few meters away amongst the pine trees.
